ABOUT SETH WOLFE GOALTENDING SCHOOL...

Seth Wolfe Goaltending School was developed by Head Instructor Seth Wolfe, an Assistant, and the Goaltending Coach for the Jamestown Ironmen, of the North American Hockey League (NAHL). Aside from his coaching experience in one of the top Junior leagues in North America, his goaltending knowledge has helped both male and female goalies at all ages and levels across the US and Canada. Along with being the Jamestown Ironmen Goalie Coach, Seth has been the Goalie Coach for Miami Hockey School for the past six summers. Past experience also includes six years of coaching alongside Nashville Predators Goalie Coach, Mitch Korn, throughout Korn Camp, a nine week Goalie School program across the United States. In addition, Seth played a vital role coaching at Building Blocks Goaltending School, in Pittsburgh, PA. Seth Wolfe Goaltending Schools is not a new program, and was previously conducted in Ohio and Pennsylvania; prior to Seth accepting the position with the Jamestown Ironmen.

SETH WOLFE – EXPERIENCE

- Goalie Coach and an Assistant Coach for the Jamestown Ironmen.
- Coached at Korn Camp, Miami Hockey School, Building Blocks Goaltending, and 7 Years of other Hockey School and Lesson Experience.

"Seth has played a vital role helping me improve technically the last few years, as has taught me to better understand game concepts. His style is unique to the individual. A+"

- Andrew Zuckerman, Monroe High School Goalie

Jamestown Ironmen Goaltender Joey Ballmer

"Coach Wolfe's coaching abilities are phenomenal. I have learned so much from him, both on and off the ice. Personally, I feel he has significantly improved my game."

-Joey Ballmer
